Prior to demolition of any building or structure 50 years of age or older the following is required:

- A. The community development director will require preparation of a cultural resource evaluation in conjunction with the demolition permit application. The project proponent is responsible for the cost of preparing the cultural resources evaluation.

The cultural resources evaluation, prepared by a qualified consultant as determined by the community development director, shall determine the potential eligibility of the building or structure for listing on a cultural resources register.

- B. Concurrently with the preceding, the community development director shall forward the application to cultural resources agencies and experts as he or she may deem necessary for review and comment.
- C. For buildings or structures determined ineligible for listing on a cultural resources register, the city building official may issue a demolition permit after the community development director accepts the cultural resources evaluation as accurate and complete and after consultations as required in subsection B. A notice of the city building official's decision to issue a demolition permit shall be forwarded to cultural resources agencies at least ten days in advance of demolition. Decisions of the city building official or community development director may be appealed within ten days in accordance with Section 17.75.090(A).

If, during the preparation of the cultural resources evaluation, it is determined that the building or structure is less than fifty years of age and ineligible for listing on a cultural resources register, then the provisions of Section 17.75.050 shall apply. If the evaluation determines that the building is fifty years of age or older, then the provisions of Section 17.75.060 shall apply. The decision of the community development director may be appealed in accordance with Section 17.59.010 and 17.75.090(A). (Ord. 808, § 1, 3-19-2012)

- A. Findings. Demolition may be approved for a building or structure or portion thereof only where at least one of the following findings are made:

In this instance, the applicant shall submit to the city such economic and financial data as is determined necessary by the community development director to substantiate such claim; or
 - 2. The planning commission determines that the structure is in such a deteriorated condition that demolition will not have a significant effect on the achievement of the purposes of this chapter or the city's general plan; or
 - 3. The planning commission determines that demolition of the structure is consistent and does not conflict with the city's goals, policies, and programs with respect to the management of cultural resources in the city as reflected in the city's general plan.

Demolition decisions made pursuant to this chapter shall not become effective until any appeal filed pursuant to Section 17.75.090 has been concluded, or the time for filing an appeal has expired and no challenges to the decision have been filed.

(Ord. 808, § 1, 3-19-2012)

17.75.110 Expiration of decision; permit expiration.

- A. A demolition permit must be obtained from the city building official after demolition is approved by the planning commission. iii) a demolition permit has been issued by the city building official. The community development director may grant an
